medicon®

Company

MEDICON eG was founded in 1941 through the merger of 6 companies specialising in the production of surgical tools. Over 30,000 items are currently produced at 11 MEDICON production facilities in the Tuttlingen region where the emphasis is very much on a traditional approach. MEDICON and its subsidiaries have a 400 employee-strong workforce.

High-quality MEDICON products are sold in over 120 countries world-wide. Every product is made in Germany.

As a company certified in accordance with EN ISO 13485:2003 and MDD 93/42 EEC, MEDICON eG guarantees consistently high quality in terms of product design, development and manufacture in all production processes. Top priority is given to quality in all sectors of the company.

Adherence to stringent quality standards and continuous further development on the part of our production engineers guarantee now, and in the future, those products that prove themselves on a daily basis in the operating theatre. Constant, close contact with end-users throughout the world brings experience in optimising the efficacy of existing instruments and helps us to develop innovative products for new surgical techniques.

High-tech production processes, the use of CNC-controlled manufacturing centres and the manual dexterity of experienced experts and specialists guarantee the consistently high function- and quality standard of all manufactured products.

As far as MEDICON is concerned, customer services is a matter of course, not an obligation:

- MEDICON keeps a well-organised warehouse stocked with virtually all Medicon products.
- MEDICON supplies all its clients direct and without any delay.
- MEDICON organises continuous training programmes and seminars for its partners.
- MEDICON provides reference material, CDs and videos for the purposes of continuous training.

MEDICON presents itself as a Full-Service Provider covering numerous aspects:

- The company is in close contact with clients thanks to a world-wide sales network of well-trained, competent specialised distributors.
- Direct, day-to-day contact with clients by letter, telephone, fax, e-mail or via the Internet.
- Personal discussions and presentations at trade fairs and congresses world-wide.
- MEDICON products are repaired or replaced directly by the manufacturer.
- Customer Satisfaction thanks to the MEDICON-After-Sales-Service. Reliability. Rapidity. Flexibility.
- Life-long warranty for surgical instruments.
- Screening of instrument sets for hospitals by medical representatives and servicing staff.

MEDICON is dedicated to creating a mutually rewarding, reliable and effective partnership both today and for the future.

In all world markets.
